MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Community Member,

Welcome to the Seminole County Parks and Recreation Department's Annual Community Impact Report.

This year has been a very busy and exciting year for us and the citizens that we serve. Significantly, we completed a number of projects including the renovation of Sunland Park and the Lake Mills Park trail loop. Red Bug Lake Park hosted an event with the Posh Rock Tennis Foundation, which provides tennis lessons to special needs children. Library Services completed their Public Library Services Master Plan, and, once again, Extension Services agents were recognized both on the state, regional, and national levels.

We had many accomplishments to celebrate this year:

- The Parks and Recreation Division hosted 92 events, resulting in $64 million in economic impact to our County.
- The Extension Services Division added four new Partners in Excellence, including Seminole County Young Farmers and Ranchers.
- The Natural Lands Program partnered with Volunteer University of Central Florida (VUCF) and the Seminole Education, Restoration, Volunteer (SERV) program to remove invasive plant species and trash at Spring Hammock Preserve. The volunteer event helped protect local biodiversity and water quality in Soldiers Creek.
- Lake Dot Park was chosen for the Florida Recreation and Park Association's (FRPA) 2023 Facility Showcase. This project was showcased in the Winter 2023 edition of the FRPA Journal and on the Public Spaces and Facilities Showcase webpage of frpa.org.
- Library Services unveiled six language learning pods that were funded through a $90,000 gift made by Mr. and Mrs. William Goodman.

As we head into 2024 with continuing and new projects and programs, I would like to thank our staff for their outstanding work and dedication, and our County Manager's Office and County Commissioners for their very much appreciated leadership and support. Thank you, also, to our citizens who support our libraries, extension office, parks, and wilderness areas through visitation and participation in programs.

Respectfully,

SERV's projects focus on protecting Seminole County's waterways and natural resources. One large volunteer group assisted with freshening up the bioretention garden at Wilson's Landing, another planted aquatic plants along the water in Overlook Park to help with shoreline stabilization, and another removed invasive plants and trash at Lake Mills Park.

The Division's commitment to providing outstanding public parks earned recognition from the Florida Recreation and Park Association (FRPA). Lake Dot Park was awarded a spot in FRPA's 2023 Facility Showcase, highlighting improvements to the walking trail, lake, and fishing pier.

FULFILLING OUR MISSION

Enriching Lives, Engaging Minds and Empowering Community

At the end of March, the Seminole County Public Library unveiled six language-learning pods: soundproof booths in which library cardholders can access custom language-learning software. The pods were funded by a $90,000 gift from William and Gloria Goodman, who experienced firsthand the power of literacy and language.

Mr. Goodman immigrated to the US from Poland at age 11 with his family as Nazi occupation of Poland became imminent. None of Mr. Goodman's family members spoke English when they arrived in the US, but Mr. Goodman set his mind to learning the language. He later served in the US Army during World War II and became a highly successful businessman in Seminole County. He and his wife wanted to help immigrants to the US learn English as well as help English-speakers broaden their linguistic horizons.

The Seminole County Public Library was proud to partner with the Goodmans on this project of promoting lifelong learning in Seminole County. Whether helping recent immigrants improve their English fluency so they can be competitive in the job market, or equipping English-speakers to make valuable connections abroad, the language-learning pods are a significant tool to fulfill the Library's mission of enriching lives, engaging minds, and empowering community.

In this same spirit of promoting lifelong learning and serving underserved populations, the Library is excited about the possibilities presented by the 2022 Long-Range Master Plan. Consulting firm Godfrey's & Associates recommended the construction of three new library buildings: one to serve the currently unserved Winter Springs area, a second to serve the Oviedo area that has decisively outgrown its current library building, and a third to serve the residents of Sanford – most of whom do not live near the current downtown library location. The residents of Sanford in particular deal with an array of socioeconomic challenges, and often need nearby access to a library in order to use the internet, pay bills, type up resumes, apply for jobs, or borrow books for their young children. Increased Library services will connect residents to more educational programs and opportunities for personal growth.

TESTIMONIALS

"I love Mother Goose Story Time. It is engaging and fun for the little ones. Bouncing babies with nursery rhymes, tapping their name on the tambourine, scarves, bells, bubbles, story board, etc. engage them. I like that they are back to back as well in case something delays us for one."

- Kerry W., Northwest Branch

"Libraries help the public in being up to date and aware. Freedom of speech is lost without public access."

- East Branch patron

"For my wife and I, this branch of the library is truly a life saver. The librarians go out of their way to serve you in any way they can. In my opinion all of them deserve raises. I would support a tax increase for all they do."

- Northwest Branch patron

"I value services provided by the library. I do not have access to a computer at home. I do not have necessary resources for printing files for the occasional work-related documents. It is good for libraries to keep adults in mind when considering the necessities and functions of a library."

- Central Branch patron

"I feel the library is one of the best use of hundreds of thousands of tax dollars I have paid. Libraries build better person, better community and better country. Access to library is one of the most cherished privileges that I admire in this country. The staff is amazing, and they are always very helpful and considerate. I cannot ask for a better library and the staff."

- West Branch patron

"Your employees are the most upbeat and friendly of any Seminole County Agency I know of!"
